SKU: 320684

Description

The LOWA Z-8S MK2 GTX PR Women's is built for demanding operational environments where comfort, support, and durability are essential. Designed with a women-specific fit, it provides a secure and stable feel during extended periods of wear. Its rugged construction is optimized for patrol, tactical, and outdoor applications, offering dependable performance across varied terrain. Combining protective features with lightweight functionality, this boot is engineered to meet the challenges of professional use.

Features

Featuring a waterproof and breathable GORE-TEX membrane, the LOWA Z-8S MK2 GTX PR Women's helps maintain a comfortable foot climate in changing weather conditions. The split-leather upper delivers durability and abrasion resistance, while the high-cut design enhances ankle support during demanding movement. A shock-absorbing PU midsole provides cushioning for long hours on foot, reducing fatigue and improving comfort. The rugged outsole ensures reliable traction on diverse surfaces, and the secure lacing system promotes a precise, supportive fit.
